

WINTER 2007

Message from the Pro Bono Partner

As lawyers, we are expected to point out flaws, plan for disasters, and anticipate the worst-case scenario. As a result, we are often focused on the negative. This issue of Pro Bono at a Glance is intended to reverse that tendency and focus on the positive. Listed below is our pro bono honor roll, we recognize everyone at R&C who put in time on a pro bono matter in 2006. I suspect that those who have gone to housing court to get a client's security deposit back, or represented an abused or neglected child, or worked on behalf of an asylum seeker or a veteran in need of medical benefits did not do it for the recognition. They did it because the client needed the representation and because the client needed them. We recognize your good work and thank each of you.
