Robinson+Cole Expands Construction Industry Practice with Additions in Boston and New York

Kenneth Sherman joins in Boston and Virginia Trunkes in New York

HARTFORD, CONN. (August 7, 2019) – Robinson+Cole (R+C) is pleased to announce the addition of Kenneth A. Sherman and Virginia K. Trunkes as counsel in the firm's Construction practice. Mr. Sherman joins the firm's Boston office and Ms. Trunkes is resident in the firm's New York office .

"Ken and Virginia are welcome additions to our accomplished group of skilled construction litigators and transactional lawyers. Especially, in two highly active markets where our Group, and the firm, is focused on continuing to strengthen its presence," said R+C Construction Law Group Chair, Gregory R. Faulkner. "Their hands-on experience is an added value to our practice and further enhances our collective ability to provide the best service to our clients in both of these strategic markets."

Mr. Sherman is an experienced construction attorney with significant construction litigation and transactional experience. He assists project owners, developers, general contractors, construction managers, and sub-contractors in construction disputes. Mr. Sherman also assists clients in the construction industry with contract drafting, negotiation, licensure, and entity formation. He is admitted to practice law in Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York.

Ms. Trunkes advocates on behalf of developers; apartment building, brownstone and condominium unit owners; cooperative boards of directors; construction managers, contractors and subcontractors; and design services professionals in negotiating their business contracts and adjacent-owner license access agreements. She is admitted to practice law in New Jersey and New York.
