Robinson+Cole Lawyer Joins The First Tee of Connecticut Board of Directors

Kenneth C. Baldwin joins organization dedicated to teaching youth life skills through the game of golf

HARTFORD, CT (December 7, 2016) – The First Tee of Connecticut, a nonprofit organization that has reached out to more than 70,000 young people through the game of golf, has appointed Robinson+Cole lawyer Kenneth C. Baldwin to its Board of Directors. Mr. Baldwin is a partner in the firm's Environmental + Utilities Group. His practice includes all aspects of utility, energy, and land use regulation before state and local administrative agencies, with an emphasis on energy and telecommunications regulation and facility siting.

The First Tee of Connecticut's mission is to positively influence the lives of young individuals of all backgrounds throughout Connecticut by providing educational programs that build character, instill life-enhancing values, and promote healthy choices through golf.
